

In these pictures, Reusable Adhesive was used to secure three Pal Pads to the top of the case. Holes were drilled and the cords pulled to the inside. Fasteners were put on each Pal Pad and object. The objects were attached to the Pal Pads, so they could be accessed by the user. The switches were plugged into the communication device and placed inside the case. When an object is touched or pulled off the Pal Pad, the communication device will activate.