

The Lex can hold up to three messages that can be recorded and stored for single-message playback. When paired with TalkingMyWay's Object Communication System, it is easy to create talking schedules and choice-making activities.